Sec. Daniels Makes Many Suggestions at House Committee Hearing

SUGGESTS BUILDING
MANY SMALLER SHIPS

In Favor of Additional Coast Defenses—Says Germany and United States Passed France in Naval Power About the Same Time.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Secretary Daniels touched on all sides of the naval preparedness program in continuing his testimony yesterday before the house naval committee. He proposed various modifications in and additions to the five-year building program endorsed by President Wilson, including entire elimination of the provision for great sea-going submarines in the 1917 estimates.

Instead of appropriating for larger vessels the secretary suggested building three 800-ton type boats for test purposes, three 1,000-ton Schley type craft already having been authorized. The remainder of the submarine fund, he urged, should go into coast defense boats of a standard type that could be quickly obtained. Thirty L type or K type boats may be the number agreed upon.

Other new features proposed by Mr. Daniels were:
Construction of a great dry dock at Norfolk and possibly at Philadelphia.
Establishment of a marine aviation and submarine base at San Diego.
Study of the Pacific coast to determine the best location for an additional gavy yard there, probably Los Angeles or San Diego.

Expenditure of $175,000 to clear the approach to the Charleston (S. C.) yard for heavy draft ships;
Authorizing the rank of full admiral for the chief of operations and fixing his powers by law on an equality with those of chiefs and bureaus.

FRENCH UNDAUNTED
BEFORE NEW DRIVE

High Official Says Germans Have to Keep Up Bluff—Defenders Regain Initiative.

PARIS, April 1.—A high authority of the war office gives a summary of official opinion of the resumption of the battle of Verdun.

"We had been expecting a new attack for two reasons: First, the incessant German bombardment, and, second, the certainty that the Germans had staked too much on a victory to dare to withdraw. Besides with their vast accumulation of material for the offensive they must have a victory, however limited or costly, to encourage their own people and overawe those neutrals who are inclined to turn against them."

"That is the worst of a bluff. There comes a time when only desperate measures can prevent the truth becoming evident."
"Although this new battle may be on a scale scarcely less gigantic than the ones before there is one important difference, the keynote of which was struck in opening engagements. The French are no longer confined to standing on the defensive and making counterattacks as the only form of offense. We have now regained the initiative and are prepared to attack ourselves whenever the occasion warrants. The German press has described our Le Mort Homme and Hill 304 as an untenable salient which is at the mercy of the first assault from Avocourt wood. The recapture of the most important fortification in that wood proves that they are still far from having a mastery of the salient, which without being a vital part of our defense would enable them to enfilade the French batteries across the river, which have hitherto barred the road to Pepper Hill, Douaumont, or Vaux.

"They have learned the cost of attacking there, while we hold Le Mort Homme, so it is probable that their efforts will be directed mainly west of the Meuse with merely sporadic attacks on the east as a diversion."

"But there is another factor against them. Owing to the terrific bombardment a modern battle tends to become more and more a question of individuals. The trenches being smashed, the defenders are split into small groups, and often two or three privates in a shell hole with a mitrailleuse can change defeat into a victory."

"That is where the Frenchmen show up best and where German discipline breaks down. In masses the Boches will face certain death, but once split into groups, they act like bewildered sheep. I have seen this constantly. This factor will decide not only Verdun, but also the battles of the future."

WAITE INDICTED

New York Dentist Accused of Murder in First Degree.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The grand jury yesterday returned an indictment charging murder in the first degree against Arthur Warren Waite, accusing him of poisoning his father-in-law, John E. Peck, millionaire drug manufacturer of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Waite will be arraigned Monday or Tuesday if his condition permits. Buried near the trunk of the tallest of a grove of trees at the very tip of Long Island, a roll of bills which Eugene Oliver Kane, the embalmer, asserted was forced upon him by Dr. Waite, was found yesterday by a detective. Kane claimed Dr. Waite paid him this money in an effort to induce him to swear there was arsenic in the embalming fluid used on the body of Waite's father-in-law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, for whose murder the young dentist was indicted today. The roll, which Waite told District Attorney Edward Swann contained $9,000, totaled only $7,500 when it was found by the detective. Kane said he never counted the money while it was in his possession and therefore did not know whether Waite's count was accurate.

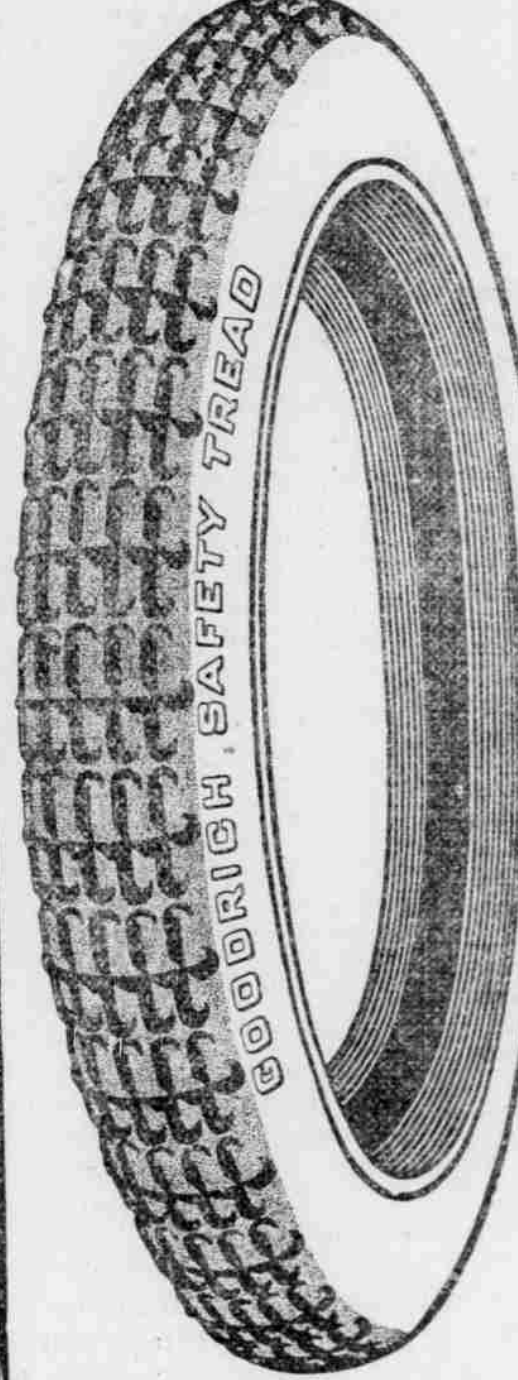

Germany Not Keeping Faith.

(Fitchburg Sentinel.)
The captain of the Sussex says that he saw the wake of a torpedo before his ship was struck and that he did his best to turn the course but failed to avoid the disaster. Here seems to be a demonstration that Germany is not keeping faith with the United States, but is doing everything in its power to destroy commerce of all sorts in order to bring England to terms. Under such conditions there seems to be no alternative for the United States but to discontinue diplomatic relations with Germany and to take such steps by force as are necessary to secure to our people their rights to safe conduct on the high seas. Germany is evidently in desperation. We see to what extremes the doctrine of frightfulness and immunity from the common obligations of humanity and morality will carry a nation. "They who take the sword shall perish by the sword," says one proverb and Germany has made the sword its symbol of political method and principle ever since Stein began his course of training to offset the conquest of the country by Napoleon. Germany is now reaping the inevitable reward of its horrible policy.

Save Old Scrap.

(St. Albans Messenger.)
There is money today in old scrap on the farm, and it is worth the trouble of picking up. Old iron is worth double what it was a year ago. Cotton rags are worth three times as much as they were a year ago. Woollen rags twice as much, and old paper, lead, brass, rubber and bones bring good money. A well-known agricultural journal in discussing at length the shortage of new material and the demand for all sorts of old material that has been looked upon as about worthless, urges the importance of gathering up these things and realizing something from them. This journal says: "Our farms are said to be harboring millions

The "Barefoot" Tire—and Why.

CONSIDER now the means by which many Tires have been given maximum Traction,—i.e., by means of a "sandpaper" texture in the Rubber of their Anti-Skid Treads.

Every time the Brakes are put on, to make such Tires grip the road, the relatively hard, unyielding, and comparatively brittle, texture of the Rubber in their Treads causes these Treads to grind away on the pavement, to WEAR OUT fast at the point of contact.

The sudden efficiency of their grinding-Traction also tugs so sharply on the Rubber Adhesive between the layers of Fabric in Tire as to separate these layers.

There is little "give" to them—just as there is little "slide" to them.

So, they gain Traction at the expense of Mileage. Naturally such Tires require a great BULK of such Rubber in order to deliver reasonable Mileage before worn out.

And, therein they differ radically from GOODRICH "Barefoot" Tires.

Because,—the Safety-Tread on Goodrich Tires is made of "Barefoot-Rubber," a new, and exclusive compound which discards unnecessary whitish "frictional" ingredients that are heaviest and inert, as proved by their lighter weight.

HERE is how it acts in Automobiling.—When the weight of the Car bears on this clinging "Barefoot-Rubber" Tread, and the power is applied to go ahead or reverse, the wonderful stretch in the "Barefoot" Rubber Sole (or Tread) of the Goodrich Tire acts as a sort of Lubricant between the Fabric Structure of the Tire and the Road.

Then, the Barefoot-Rubber "Toes," of the Goodrich Safety-Tread Tire, CLING to the pavement (instead of grinding against it), in such manner as your Bare Foot would cling to a slippery surface—without Grind, and so, with the minimum of Frictional Heat or Wear for maximum Traction.

Goodrich "Barefoot-Rubber" is now made into Goodrich FABRIC Tires,—Goodrich Silvertown Cord Tires,—Goodrich Inner Tubes,—Goodrich Truck Tires,—Goodrich Motor Cycle, and Bicycle, Tires, as well as into Goodrich Rubber Boots, Over-Shoes, Soles and Heels.

Get a Sliver of it from your nearest Goodrich Branch, or Dealer. Stretch it thousands of times, but break it you can't.

That's the Stuff that GOODRICH Black-Tread Tires are made of.

of dollars' worth of scrap and waste, because we have never developed an adequate system by which these odds and ends may be collected. In Europe they are all picked up and utilized, but here the junkman's cart wanders chiefly through the cities and towns. The country in a large measure is neglected, and thousands of tons of waste is allowed to rust and rot away, bringing profit to nobody."

Sending Few Recruits to the Army.

(Brooklyn Enterprise.)

A recruiting officer in Boston says this part of the country is not doing its share in sending recruits to the army. The number he has found in Boston and vicinity is small, and he speaks bitterly of the poor quality of the men who offer themselves. What is the answer? This is a sad and sad section, and it would naturally be thought that people hereabouts would realize the need of defence of it as likely to be one of the first places invaded if war came and invasion was attempted. Are the great majority of the young men believers in the theory that we shall never be in danger of war? Are they holding down such good jobs that they do not feel that it is their place to abandon such jobs? Is the taste for adventure dead, or is there sufficient adventure every day in dodging automobiles and trolley cars? In the middle West, supposed to be the home of pacifism, there has been a strong response to the call for men for the regular army; here, where the talk of national preparedness has been strong, the recruiting officers find few who care to enter the army.

Uninstructed Delegation.

(St. Johnsbury Caledonian.)

The Republicans of Maine in state convention last week elected an uninstructed delegation to the national convention at Chicago although the sentiment of a great majority of the members was enthusiastically for Hughes. They adopted a platform full of progressive principles as well as scorching denunciations of Wilson's policies. It was the kind of a convention that promises Republican success in the coming campaign and is one that Vermont and Massachusetts may well pattern after.

Scarlet fever is practically unknown in the tropics and doctors say this is because so little fresh milk is drunk there. The streptococcus, which occurs in large quantities in most raw milk is always present in scarlet fever and experts see in that a cause and effect.
